

Prince Dung Beetle

Focusing on catchy accordion music, toy theatre (aka: paper theatre) and silliness, Prince Dung Beetle is an interactive puppetry and storytelling performance adapted from a long-lost Bavaria folk tale. The show is full of low tech wonders like flying scenes, scrolling paintings, hand made puppets for kids and adults to enjoy.

First we meet Barbara and her mother, who sings us a story of from a long time ago about a magic transformation. Before long, Barbara sets out on her own journey and discovers the magic she can create herself.

Technical Information

Age range: 3 to 6 years

Audience size: maximum 100 spectators

Length of performance: 35 minutes

Performers: 3

Set up time: 60 minutes

Performance Space: min. 10' x 10' x 10'

Lighting Requirements: one standard electrical outlet and general front lighting

Sound: Relative quiet is required for acoustic voice and accordion. Please contact us about amplification possibilities for large venues or outdoor performances.

Supplementary material: We offer a craft making workshop that can compliment this show... ask us for details!

Contact us at flyingboxtheatre@gmail.com